Rehoboam replied them that they should back after three days. Within these days, he sought counsel from his father's advisers. They advised him that he should listen to the people request. However, he turned down this advice and took the advice of his age group, who advise him to increase the people's burden. When the assembly returned, Rehoboam spoke to them according to the advice of the Young men. When the people of Israel saw that the king did not listen to their request, they answered the king saying:

“what portion have we in David? We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents O Israel! Look now to your own house, David.”
